

Our state recently signed into law a bill protecting our citizens from unwanted telemarketing calls, and so far it seems to work. Your new legislation would nullify the states law and we will again be bombarded by telemarketers. I think the states right should hold precedence, and you should leave well enough alone.